The Marina Partner Program is designed to create an association of cooperating facilities that partner with The International SeeKeepers Society in promoting marine conservation and education to their constituents. Marinas are uniquely positioned to encourage participation in ocean conservation programs and encourage best boating practices in protecting the environment. Visit www.seakeepers.org/marina-program/ to learn more.

How It Works

Programming opportunities which address marine research and education are promoted to marinas and their clientele. Vessels that are interested in learning more can participate by signing up online as a potential DISCOVERY Yacht. Once a vessel profile is added to the SeaKeepers database, program opportunities that match the owner’s interest and vessel capabilities are offered on a regular basis and the vessel owner can opt-in to learn more if an agreeable date and type of activity for participation is identified.

Program engagement ranges from multi-day expeditions to citizen science opportunities which can be done independently on the vessel owner’s schedule. Vessel owners who generously donate time on their yachts may qualify for tax benefits to the extent allowed by law and will be recognized at SeaKeepers events, featured on the SeaKeepers website, and acknowledged in the SeaKeepers newsletter. In addition to mobilizing more vessels to engage with ocean conservation, research, and education, the Marina Partner Program is key to promoting best boating practices and protecting the ocean by adopting responsible measures as a vessel owner.
Our Goal
To increase DISCOVERY Yacht involvement in collaboration with our Marina Partners and to promote environmentally clean practices and pollution prevention of our waterways and oceans.
